- According to certain individuals, the doctrine of reincarnation appears to destroy family ties by carrying them back to previous lives.

"Instead of destroying them, it extends them. Since kinships may be based on previous affections, the ties that unite members of the same family are less precarious. Moreover, reincarnation broadens the duties of fraternity because your neighbor or your servant may be a spirit who was formerly related to you by blood."

- The Spirits' Book, q/a # 205

"Do not underestimate the value and power of prayer. The body needs enough food to maintain itself. So does the spirit, which vitalizes matter. Prayer is a high-quality fuel for your harmony."

- Happy Life, Joanna de Angelis and Divaldo Franco
