– Parents almost always transmit a physical likeness to their children. Do they also transmit a moral likeness?

"No, because their souls or spirits are different. The body proceeds from the body but the spirit does not proceed from the spirit. There is no other link than blood kinship among descendants."

– Where does the moral likeness that sometimes exists between parents and children come from?

"They are sympathetic spirits, attracted by similarities of inclination."

- The Spirits' Book, q/a # 207

"Keep emotional control under all circumstances. An unbalanced nervous system means an unbalanced life. If difficulties threaten your balance, utilize prayer. Prayer is effective medicine for all the illnesses of the soul. . ."
